Career Summary

Alex is a multifamily real estate professional specializing in investment sales throughout the Greater Sacramento region. Since graduating from California State University, Sacramento in 2020, he has built a reputation for providing investors with thoughtful guidance, disciplined execution, and a relationship-focused approach. Having closed more than $30 million in multifamily transactions on behalf of buyers and sellers, Alex combines market knowledge with operational insight to help clients identify opportunities and enhance long-term asset performance.

In addition to brokerage, Alex brings hands-on experience in multifamily operations and portfolio oversight, giving him a well-rounded, owner-minded perspective. He has overseen multifamily communities across the Sacramento region, leading teams responsible for approximately 1,500 units while working closely with ownership groups to improve operational and financial performance. This experience allows him to bridge the gap between property management and investment strategy, providing clients with practical insight into asset positioning and execution.

As an Associate Vice President at Gallelli Real Estate, Alex focuses on multifamily investment sales, business development, and operational leadership, helping investors navigate acquisitions, dispositions, and portfolio growth throughout Northern California.
